1. PREAMBLE

- 1.1 The Promotion of Access to Information Act, 2000 (“PAIA”) came into operation on 9 March 2001. PAIA seeks, among other things, to give effect to the Constitutional right of access to any information held by the State or by any other person where such information is required for the exercise or protection of any right and gives natural and juristic persons the right of access to records held by either a private or public body, subject to certain limitations, in order to enable them to exercise or protect their rights. Where a request is made in terms of PAIA to a private body, that private body must disclose the information if the requester is able to show that the record is required for the exercise or protection of any rights and provided that no grounds of refusal contained in PAIA are applicable. PAIA sets out the requisite procedural issues attached to information requests.
- 1.2 Section 51 of PAIA obliges private bodies to compile a manual to enable a person to obtain access to information held by such private body and stipulates the minimum requirements that the manual has to comply with.
- 1.3 This Manual constitutes RBH’s PAIA manual. This Manual is compiled in accordance with section 51 of PAIA as amended by the Protection of Personal Information Act, 2013 (“POPIA”), which gives effect to everyone’s Constitutional right to privacy. POPIA promotes the protection of personal information processed by public and private bodies, including certain conditions so as to establish minimum requirements for the processing of personal information. POPIA amends certain provisions of PAIA, balancing the need for access to information against the need to ensure the protection of personal information by providing for the establishment of an Information Regulator to exercise certain powers and perform certain duties and functions in terms of POPIA and PAIA, providing for the issuing of codes of conduct and providing for the rights of persons regarding unsolicited electronic communications and automated decision making in order to regulate the flow of personal information and to provide for matters concerned therewith.
- 1.4 This PAIA manual also includes information on the submission of objections to the processing of personal information and requests to delete or destroy personal information or records thereof in terms of POPIA.

7. ENTRY POINT FOR REQUESTS

7.1 PAIA provides that a person may only make a request for information, if the information is required for the exercise or protection of a legitimate right.

The exercise of an individual's rights is subject to justifiable limitations, including the reasonable protection of privacy, commercial confidentiality and effective, efficient and good governance. PAIA and the request procedure contained in this Manual may not be used for access to a record for criminal or civil proceedings, nor should information be requested after the commencement of such proceedings.

- 7.3 The Deputy Information Officer has been delegated with the task of receiving and coordinating all requests for access to records in terms of PAIA, in order to ensure proper compliance with PAIA and POPIA.
- 7.4 The Deputy Information Officer will facilitate the liaison with the internal legal team on all of these requests.

12.6 Collection of Fees

Bank deposit is the only accepted payment method for PAIA requests. Banking details to be provided on request.

12.7 Timelines for consideration of a request for access

12.7.1 Requests will be processed within 30 (thirty) days, unless the request contains considerations that are of such a nature that an extension of the time limit is needed.

12.7.2 The 30 (thirty) day period may be extended for a further period of not more than 30 (thirty) days if the request is for a large amount of information, or the request requires a search for information held at another office of RBH and the information cannot reasonably be obtained within the original 30 (thirty) day period.

12.7.3 Should an extension be given, RBH will notify the requester in writing and will also provide the procedure involved should the requestor wish to apply to court against the extension. Should an extension be required, you will be notified, together with reasons explaining why the extension is necessary.

12.8 Grounds for refusal of access and protection of information

12.8.1 There are various grounds upon which a request for access to a record may be refused. These grounds include:

12.8.1.1 the protection of personal information of a third person (who is a natural person) from unreasonable disclosure;

12.8.1.2 the protection of commercial information of a third party (for example: trade secrets; financial, commercial, scientific or

- technical information that may harm the commercial or financial interests of a third party);
- 12.8.1.3 if disclosure would result in the breach of a duty of confidence owed to a third party;
 - 12.8.1.4 if disclosure would jeopardise the safety of an individual or prejudice or impair certain property rights of a third person;
 - 12.8.1.5 if the record was produced during legal proceedings, unless that legal privilege has been waived;
 - 12.8.1.6 if the record contains trade secrets, financial or sensitive information or any information that would put RBH (at a disadvantage in negotiations or prejudice it in commercial competition); and/or
 - 12.8.1.7 if the record contains information about research being carried out or about to be carried out on behalf of a third party or by RBH.
- 12.8.2 Section 70 of PAIA contains an overriding provision. Disclosure of a record is compulsory if it would reveal (i) a substantial contravention of, or failure to comply with the law; or (ii) there is an imminent and serious public safety or environmental risk; and (iii) the public interest in the disclosure of the record in question clearly outweighs the harm contemplated by its disclosure.
- 12.8.3 If the request for access to information affects a third party, then such third party must first be informed within 21 (twenty-one) days of receipt of the request. The third party would then have a further 21 (twenty-one) days to make representations and/or submissions regarding the granting of access to the record.

13 REMEDIES AVAILABLE TO A REQUESTER ON REFUSAL OF ACCESS

13.1 If the Information Officer decides to grant you access to the particular record, such access must be granted within 30 (thirty) days of being informed of the decision.

13.2 There is no internal appeal procedure that may be followed after a request to access information has been refused. The decision made by the Information Officer is final. In the event that you are not satisfied with the outcome of the request, you are entitled to apply to a court of competent jurisdiction to take the matter further.

13.3 Where a third party is affected by the request for access and the Information Officer has decided to grant you access to the record, the third party has 30 (thirty) days in which to appeal the decision in a court of competent jurisdiction. If no appeal has been lodged by the third party within 30 (thirty) days, you must be granted access to the record.
